

Please do not even consider relaxing Indiana's No-Call Law, especially for the banking industry. Calls from banks vying for our credit card business still persist, and relaxing the law will only make it worse. If anything, make the existing law more strict or give the states more power in curbing this irritating practice.